CHICAGO, March 8.—Argument was begun today on a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction issued recently, restraining the Federal league from transferring the Kansas City franchise to Newark, N. EFFICIENCY REPORT WILL STAND IN PART

(Continued from Page One.) This bill before the end of the present fiscal year, June 30. This is in harmony with the general effort for economy in the Postoffice department made necessary by a falling off in the revenue. "Mr. Roper admitted that the revenue of the Omaha office had shown some slight increase, which is quite exceptional as compared with other cities, but he said he felt that the office had been run on a liberal scale and felt that some further economies could be achieved. "Wharton and Woodard Continue. Asked if there was a disposition on the part of the Postoffice department to make a change in the head of the Omaha office, Senator Hitchcock said he had suggested that as Postmaster Wharton's term would expire next February the present postmaster and assistant be continued. Then if changes were made they would be democratic changes and not chargeable to anything but politics. If, however, the assistant postmaster was demoted at this time the community would not tolerate it, and the party would be held responsible without regard to the merits of the case, a condition he was not prepared either to recommend or sanction. "Goes In for Cleanup. While at the Postoffice department, Senator Hitchcock decided to make a wholesale "clean-up" of postoffices for which he had made recommendations, but which had failed to receive the endorsement of Secretary of State Bryan, or "Brother Charley." For it might as well be stated now that in every instance where Senator Hitchcock has recommended a postmaster in any one of the three congressional districts represented by republicans his recommendations have gone to William J. Bryan, who has passed upon the names suggested by the senator from Nebraska, and when in doubt Secretary Bryan has referred the recommendation to his brother, Charles. Some of Hitchcock's recommendations have passed the ordeal, some have failed while about twenty have not been acted on, although in some cases they have been pending a year or more. "Expect Recess Appointments. As a result of the conference today it seems safe to predict that at least twenty postmasterships that have been in controversy will be settled at once through recess appointments. Senator Hitchcock's original recommendations, however, in the main being chosen. In some cases he agreed to waive objections and consent to another choice. In this way all pending postoffice appointments in the republican congressional districts of the state except in one or two instances where Secretary Bryan and Senator Hitchcock could not agree will be adjusted. It is possible the appointments will be announced Wednesday. "Predicament at O'Neill. One of the humorous incidents connected with the selection of a postmaster at O'Neill came to light today. Some time ago Senator Hitchcock recommended for the O'Neill office M. H. McCarthy. It transpired that McCarthy was not satisfactory to the Bryan people who wanted D. A. Doyle. After considerable correspondence and seemingly without hope of getting anywhere, Doyle suggested to Senator Hitchcock that he call a primary to determine who was the choice of the patrons of the office for the place. Senator Hitchcock refused the suggestion. Later he was importuned by McCarthy to withdraw his objection to a primary because as he said, "Doyle won't have a look in." Now it is rumored that Doyle is on his way to Washington to put a stop to the primary and pry the job loose for himself. "For Sale" ad will turn second hand furniture into cash.

MOVING THE SNOW EMPLOYS MANY MEN

Railroads Have Thousands at Work Clearing Tracks in Local Yards from the Packed Drifts. BUSY DAYS FOLLOW THE STORM. While the aftermath of the snow-storm is proving expensive to the railroads, it is resulting in large sums of money being scattered along the lines in the vicinity of Omaha, for right now some 3,000 men are being employed in shoveling snow at the rate of $2 per day. Up to Sunday the railroads, owing to the fact that the storm still continued, did little in the way of removing snow from the switch yards and terminals. Sunday they commenced to hire laborers and during most of the day they had 1,500 to 2,000 at work. This morning they increased the number to about 3,000, and these will continue their work for two or three days, at least. In Omaha and at all terminal points in the territory the yards and switch tracks were blocked with snow to a depth of from two to four feet. Tracks are close together, and the only way to dispose of the accumulation of snow is to shovel it onto flat cars, take it out into the country and dump it. In doing this work the Union Pacific is giving employment to 1,000 men; the Burlington, 1,000; the Northwestern, 600; the Missouri Pacific, 500, and the Great Western and Illinois Central, each. In many places at the yards and terminals the snow became so deep and so hard that it was impossible to drive switch engines through the drifts. "Employ Outside Labor. To remove the snow from the sidewalks and driveways at the federal building after the big snowstorm, the government paid $46.22, Custodian Cadet Taylor reports. Fifteen men worked most of two days at 25 cents per hour, shoveling away the heavy drifts. "It is the first time in the history of the federal building that outside help was hired for the purpose. The regular janitors usually do the work, but the snow was so heavy and deep this time that an extra gang of men had to be authorized. They were secured through the Associated Charities, only married men living in Omaha permanently being hired. "On account of threatened slides of snow from the roof of the building onto the south walk, part of the motor has been roped off, to protect passersby.

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid. When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and lousy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatism twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water acids and you are often set to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life-saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.
